
NTTA BEGINS ZIPCASH BILLING TXDOT'S DFW CONNECTOR CUSTOMERS

PLANO, Texas – Oct. 20, 2014 – The North Texas Tollway Authority and the Texas Department of Transportation will begin billing ZipCash customers for tolls on the DFW Connector TEXpress lanes October 20.

Depending on their billing cycle, customers will see DFW Connector toll charges on their invoices over the next five weeks.

NTTA and TxDOT entered into a Tolling Services Agreement (TSA) and worked to coordinate their respective tolling systems in order to bill DFW Connector users. The DFW Connector opened April 1 and TxDOT began charging tolls July 7. Since then, the two reached agreement on the TSA and finished testing and integrating their systems.

Motorists will enjoy seamless customer service with a single point of contact on area TEXpress lanes. TollTag customers will have transactions deducted automatically from their account, and ZipCash (also known as Pay By Mail) customers will receive toll charges on a single bill, listed under the TEXpress lanes section of their NTTA monthly invoices.

NTTA TollTags guarantee the lowest rates and most convenience and may be used on all toll roads throughout Texas and Oklahoma. Visit NTTA.org to get a TollTag or a $20 Starter TollTag. Now TollTag customers save even more on the DFW Connector, where ZipCash rates are 75 percent higher than TollTag rates.

DFW Connector customers may also use TxTag and EZTag to pay tolls. Visit TxTag.org to get a TxTag or HCTRA.org to get an EZTag.
